Thought for the Day
Think happy thoughts!
Think always of the best,
Think of the ones you love, not those
that you detest;
Think of your victories and not your failures here.
The smile that pleased and not the hurtful sneer;
The kindly word and not the harsh
word spoken,
The promise kept and not the promise broken;
The good that you have known and
not the bad;
The happy days that were and not the sad;
Think of the rose and not the withered flower,
The beauty of the rainbow, and not the shower.
Think happy thoughts!

Mr. W. W. Harris and Miss Caroline Harris spent three days this week in Leesburg and vicinity.

Miss Hallie Ley, after a visit of a week to Miss Mary Burford, left this afternoon for her home in Orlando.

Miss Nina Camp has returned home from Gainesville, where she was the lovely guest of Miss Louise DePass.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Reynolds are receiving the congratulations of friends on the birth yesterday of a son.

Mrs. Annie Waldo Van Deman is now the guest of relatives in Orangeburg, S. C., before leaving for Atlanta and is being feted at a series of interesting parties given by friends and relatives.

Mrs. E. Plyum of Tampa, who has been the guest of Mrs. B. D. Blackburn for a week, has gone to Jacksonville to visit relatives. She expects to again visit in Ocala before returning home.

Mr. P. W. Whiteside and family, who have for a number of years been occupying Mr. Stephen Jewett's house on S. Third street have moved next to the house belonging to Mr. C. J. Phillips of Jacksonville.

Misses Elizabeth, Margaret and Lucretia, the trio of lovely young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Hocker, returned home today from a visit to their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Mote at Leesburg.

Miss Eloise Henry, who has been a member of a house party at Pass-a-Grille for the past week, given by Miss Geraldine Ball of Tampa, is now the guest of Miss Ball at her Tampa home for a few days, before returning to Lake Weir.

Mr. and Mrs. George Foote of Daytona, the latter formerly Miss Emma Cannons, who are spending the summer in Cleveland, O., left there Thursday for a month's trip through the west, visiting the exposition and other places of interest.

Miss Frances Tarver has concluded a visit to Tampa and is again the guest of Miss Marie Hulbert in St. Petersburg for several days before returning home.

An informal but delightful social affair in Gainesville this week was a supper party given by Mrs. J. A. Spruill at the home of her mother, Mrs. B. P. Richards, in honor of Miss Bessie King, a bride-elect.

Miss Carrie Deen, member of the high school faculty, who went to Tallahassee to visit before returning to Gainesville has decided to remain there and take the summer school course at the Woman's State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waldon of Tampa, who spent a portion of their recent wedding trip in Ocala, visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. E. H. Martin, will move next week to St. Petersburg, where Mr. Waldon has acquired an interest in the Pinellas Hardware Company.

Mrs. W. J. Chambers, Miss Roberta and Mr. William Chambers of Tampa are sojourning at Pass-a-Grille. Next week they will be joined by Miss Frances Chambers, who is visiting in this city. Miss Nettie Chambers has gone to Chattanooga, Tenn.

"Balboa" is the name of the new ragless dance which was unanimously endorsed by the International Dancing Masters' Association, at its convention in San Francisco. The teachers avow that it eradicates the "rag" in dancing and obviates the vulgar. They will urge that it be used in place of all rag-time dances.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Martin and Miss Gladys Martin will arrive home tonight on the midnight train from Jacksonville. Mrs. Martin visited her daughter at college in Tallahassee during commencement and since then she and Miss Martin have been guests of Mrs. J. P. Hilburn. They were joined by Mr. Martin this morning in the state metropolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli A. Osborn and their guest, Miss Margaret Wade of Fayetteville, N. C., returned last night from Jacksonville, where they motored Tuesday for a short visit to Mrs. Osborn's aunt, Mrs. M. G.

Wade. Miss Wade will be a guest at the Osborn home for a fortnight longer, leaving then for Jacksonville and other points before returning home.

Business Meeting of Dickson Chapter U. D. C.

Dickson chapter U. D. C. met in regular monthly business session Friday afternoon, June 11, at the home of Mrs. W. W. Harris, Mrs. D. E. McIver, president, presiding.

Minutes of last meeting were read and corrected. The treasurer's report was read and ordered filed.

The chapter will give its annual dinner to the Confederate Veterans July 6th, the date that the camp has its monthly business meeting. In the absence of the president, the first vice president, Mrs. E. L. Carney, will have charge of all arrangements. The visiting committee made its report. Mrs. D. M. Smith and Mrs. B. D. Blackburn were appointed a committee for the ensuing month.

An interesting feature of the meeting was an impromptu but full report of the Confederate reunion in Richmond given by Mrs. Carney. Mrs. Carroll, the historian, gave an interesting reading of an attractive piece on the old black mammy and the "Lines on the Back of a Confederate Note," by Miss Caroline Harris, was an enjoyable feature.

The chapter adjourned to meet in July with Mrs. S. T. Sistrunk, after which the hostess assisted by her daughter served peach ice cream and cake.

Mrs. A. B. Gerner will conclude a visit of ten days to Mrs. Mary Eagleton Monday, leaving then for her home in Tampa. As Miss Hattie Curry, Mrs. Gerner formerly resided in Ocala and during her visit, the first since her marriage, she has renewed many pleasant acquaintances and been the recipient of a number of small informal courtesies.

Mrs. L. W. Ponder has returned home from a visit of a month to her sister, Mrs. Robert Sales in Tampa. She was accompanied by her nephews Robert and Foy Sales, who will be her guests for sometime.

Mrs. J. W. Pearson, who concluded Sunday a several weeks' visit to Mrs. E. J. Redding and Mrs. R. A. Burford, returning then to Kissimmee, has rented her Fort King residence to Mr. W. J. Edwards, who with his family will take possession next week.

Mr. Leon Fishel and Mrs. M. Fishel returned yesterday from Baltimore. The many friends of the latter will be glad to know that she has almost entirely recovered from her operation underwent at Johns Hopkins in May.

Mrs. P. C. Wind and children, who have been living in Jacksonville for some time, and who have been here several days visiting relatives, left last night for Ocala, where they will reside in the future. Mrs. Wind is a daughter of the late J. A. Jerniga, Sr.—Gainesville Sun.

J. R. DAVIS

Mr. J. R. Davis died this morning at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davis on Oklawaha avenue. Mr. Davis had been sick for two years and upon taking a turn for the worse two months ago, came here from Montbrook to take treatment, but his condition did not improve and death came this morning caused by heavy blood pressure of the heart. Mr. Davis leaves a wife and two sons. His wife and son, Mr. J. L. Davis and wife of Inverness, were with him at the last. His other son who lives at Carrabel, has been notified. The deceased was 60 years of age and had been a resident of Montbrook for many years. McIver & MacKay prepared the remains for shipment to Montbrook today.

Mr. Davis was a member of the W. O. W. lodge at Montbrook and the members of that lodge will conduct the funeral service at Montbrook this afternoon.

DANGER SIGNALS.

Red is Used Because It is the Most Effective Color.

Red is the color universally used as a danger signal because it can be seen rather than any other color. It is also the color that "attracts attention, excites curiosity and arouses to action," as William Churchill said in an address before the Illuminating Engineering society.

Green, the complementary of red, is seen almost as far as red, but green is the color of which nature makes lavish use, and therefore a green signal is less easily recognized than a red, because the former may easily be taken for a part of the background, while the latter always contrasts vividly with the background. So green has been used for a clear or a cautionary signal.

At night especially red is used as a danger signal, red lanterns being placed on turn up streets and obstructions. Red tail lights being used for motorcars, red lamps to indicate fire exits in theaters, factories and hotels and more recently to mark dangerous parts of machinery, high current wires and other danger spots.

In Mr. Churchill's address, as quoted by the Scientific American, he gave the effective range of the several colored lights recognized by the Railway Signal association under ordinary weather conditions, as follows: Red, three to three and one-half miles; yellow, one to one and one-half miles; green, two and one-half to three miles; blue, one-half to three-quarters of a mile; purple, one-half to three-quarters of a mile; lunar white, two to two and one-half miles.

Red, no matter how distant, never ceases to look red. This is not true of any other color, though a good green fairly approximates it.

Yellow light is visible much farther than the distance at which its color can be distinguished and is easily mistaken for a "neighborhood light"—that is, a house, for instance.

Lunar white—a pale bluish white—has come into use as a "clear" indication for switches on many railroads. It can be recognized at greater distances than yellow and is not so easily mistaken for "neighborhood lights."

HYPNOTIZING ANIMALS.

Even the Deadly Cobra May Be Made Perfectly Passive.

Hypnotizing a hen is a trick known to most country boys. It is an old experiment, first described by the Jesuit father, Athanasius Kircher, who laid a hen on the table, held it firmly for a little while and drew a chalk line in front of its eyes, with the result that it remained as if in a catalepsy.

In India it is known that a cobra caught by the neck and gently pressed will soon become stiff and remain so for a considerable time either coiled up or out straight.

A frog fastened to a board and turned suddenly upside down goes into a trance. Other animals are susceptible to this treatment, some more quickly than others.

If you pick up a crab and wave it in the air it becomes immobile, a female bending her legs over her abdomen, a male sticking them out almost straight. The same is true of the fresh water crayfish, only this resists for a much longer time than a crab.

Among the insects catalepsy—commonly known as "death feigning"—is common, and, according to Professor Ernst Mangold, the learned German naturalist, is often a means of saving the life of the insect.

According to Mangold, the hypnotic condition is induced in man by suggestion or physical inhibition, in animals by mechanical inhibition, but in both cases sensory stimuli may assist. These stimuli may be optic (fixing the gaze on some object), or tactile (stroking the skin), or otherwise. Some times an absence of wanted stimuli may induce the state, as in the case of absolute silence.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Undiscovered Oceans of Truth.
"We may be justly proud of what has been achieved, but let us not fail to remember with Newton that 'the vast ocean of truth' still 'lies for the most part undiscovered before us.' However marked may be the progress of science, her individual votaries must always feel a sense of humility at the little the best of them is able to contribute toward the general result."—Sir Edward Schaefer, in an address to the British association.

Gypsies.

The gypsies are nearer to the animals than any race known to us in Europe. They have the lawlessness, the abandonment, the natural physical grace in form and gesture of animals. Only a stealthy and wary something in their eyes makes them human.—Arthur Symonds.

Passed Along.

"You must have liked the servant to whom you gave the letter of recommendation she showed Mrs. Blinx," said one woman.

"I didn't care for her at all," replied the other. "But I don't care for Mrs. Blinx, either."—Washington Star.

End of the World.

"You said when you asked me to marry you that you would go to the end of the world for me."

"And so I will, but the end of the world is so far off that I can't get to it."

WITH THE FRENCH WOUNDED

The Woman's Sacrifice

Paris, June 12, 8:30 p. m.—Away from the battlefield one sees war stripped of its glamor. We see the heroic work of nurses who are on duty day and night. There is devotion, self-sacrifice, suffering, patriotism—qualities which only a great war and its terrible consequences can inspire to the highest development. The women everywhere are helping and suffering from that change and devotion to country.

The women of the United States do not know how fortunate they are. Here there are plenty of women who suffer in silence, whose strength is out of proportion to their ambition. Their hands are tied by some chronic disease common to womanhood; that weak back, accompanied by pain here or there, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, maybe fainting spells or spasms, are all signals of distress for women. She may be growing from girlhood into womanhood, passing from womanhood to motherhood, and later suffering from that change which leaves so many wrecks of women. At any or all of these periods of a woman's life she should take a tonic and nerve, prescribed for just such cases by a physician of vast experience in the diseases of women. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has successfully treated more cases than the past fifty years than any other known remedy. When you feel dull, headachy, backache, dizzy or perhaps hot flashes, there is nothing you can accomplish, nothing you can enjoy. You can find permanent relief in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is sold by medicine dealers, or trial box by mail from Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., on receipt of 50 cents or one dollar for a large box.—Adv.

Seeing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so highly recommended, I got her a bottle and it relieved the cough at once. Before she had finished two bottles of this remedy she was entirely well." writes Mrs. S. F. Grimes, Crooksville, Ohio. Obtainable everywhere. Adv.
